

HIS REASONS.

Alderman Poage States Why he Voted Against the Resolution.

In conversation with a News reporter Alderman Poage, of the First ward, said that he did not vote against the resolution of the police committee, instructing the officers to enforce the law, because he opposed the enforcement.

"I do not think it is the proper proceeding to adopt a resolution of the kind, no more so than for the council to meet in special session when a drunken man is seen and pass a resolution ordering the marshal to arrest him. If the marshal or other officers of the city are not doing their duty the charter instructs the council how to proceed. The ordinances are printed in plain language, the officers know their duty and it is not for the council to point out that duty periodically. These are my reasons for voting against the resolution."
